Computing facilities at SPM

- 1. Computing facilities at PDPU consist of several services like Central Authentication, Email, Internet, Library Portal, FTP and RADIUS, Account and Antivirus offering to about 3000+ nodes located all over the campus. Almost every workplace in the campus including all student rooms, faculty Offices, classrooms, computer labs and administrative Offices, has network connectivity. Through this network, students have also access SPM library Service offering several journals' databases subscribed by the School. The campus network is a switch based fiber optic back bone with UTP cabling, offering high bandwidth and a smooth operating environment. All systems on the campus are in one large inter-network which comprises about 50+ logical organized Local Area Networks. The campus users have access to the windows-based Office suites consisting of spread sheet, data management, word processing and presentation software systems.
- 2. PDPU has internet connectivity of up to 500+Mbps through Fiber Optic from NIC and PRI connectivity from BSNL for Telecom Network as well as 500+Mbps Connectivity through Fiber Optic from Jio and 25Mbps Connectivity through Wireless Link from Blazenet as redundancy.

- 6. SPM hostel is also having LAN network connectivity; students can also access internet and intranet through hostel network

Appendix – 6

Norms for using Computing Facilities (CF)

The Internet has to be used for personal e-mail only if the system is not currently required for academic work.

The policies and mores controlling acceptable actions at SPM are implicitly extended to cover the use of the CF. The impersonal aspect of computers should not be taken as an excuse or reason for people's interactions with others to be anything but well mannered, ethical, and legal.

Just as it is unacceptable to display a sexually explicit poster in a public room, it is similarly unacceptable to display such an image on a publicly visible computer screen. The recipients should carry out unsolicited, wide distribution of mail or messages only if there is a reasonable expectation of interest. Even in those cases, care must be taken to ensure that the messages do not overwhelm systems.

The Code of Conduct is given below:

Students shall:

- A. Be responsible for using CF in an effective, ethical, and lawful manner. Individual users are responsible for their own actions. For example, if an user transmits illicit materials or stores illegal software, that individual user is responsible for such actions and may be held accountable for all consequences and repercussions arising from such actions.
- B. Be aware that wasteful or inefficient use of resources may result in significant expenses for SPM or result in a reduction in the level of service to other users
- C. Use only those facilities for which they have authorization, whether these facilities are at SPM or at any other location accessible through a network.
- D. Take all reasonable steps to protect the integrity and privacy of the CF including software and data. In particular, users shall not share with others the access codes, account numbers, passwords or other authorization, which have been assigned to them.

Users are encouraged to report any violations of this policy and any information relating to flaws in the computing facility security, to the appropriate system manager or to the Computing Centre. Such deficiencies in security must not be "tested" without proper authorization. Turning a "blind-eye" to potential violations or system flaws may allow YOUR privacy or access to be jeopardized.

In this and following sections, "access code" represents the user name, account, sign-on id, password or whatever system-dependant mechanisms are used to gain access to particular facilities.

By allowing your access code to be used by others, you risk compromising the security and integrity of the CF. As described in several later sections, many networks to which HMA connects require that all communications be identified and traceable. For these reasons, if you allow your access code to be used by others, you are responsible for all usage and activities carried out with the code.

Allowing unauthorized access to CF indirectly is similarly prohibited

A computer or terminal logged on and unattended in an accessible location is particularly vulnerable.

E. Not use CF for inappropriate purposes.

Examples of inappropriate purposes include, but are not limited to, widespread unsolicited mailings and access to illegal or sexually explicit sites.

F. Respect the privacy of other users.

This includes, but is not limited to, respecting the confidentiality of E-mail, files, data, and transmissions.

The ability to access information does not imply permission to access it. Specifically, having read-access to a file does not mean that you may read it. You should not browse, view, print, copy or execute someone else's directories or files (either manually or program-assisted) without explicit permission. This also applies to floppy disks and tapes and similar storage media.

G. Not use CF for unauthorized commercial activities.

As with other School resources, the use of the CF for private, commercially oriented applications is forbidden.

H. Refrain from using CF for any unauthorized or illegal purposes.

Unauthorized or illegal purposes might include destruction or alteration of data owned by others, interference with legitimate access to computing facilities, harassment of users of such facilities at SPM or elsewhere, unauthorized disruption of CF, attempts to discover or alter passwords or to subvert security systems in CF or in any other computing or network facility.

The law prohibits unauthorized use of computers; unauthorized access to information or programs; destruction or alteration of data or interference with lawful access to data and the use of a computer system with the intent to commit any of the above.

Intentional introduction of any computer virus, Trojan horse, worm, or similar software is an explicit violation of this principle.

Any unauthorized action that intentionally denies or obstructs access for another legitimate user to CF is forbidden.

I. Properly identify themselves in any electronic correspondence and provide valid, traceable identification if required by applications or servers within the CF or in establishing connections from the CF.

All transmissions must be identifiable by SPM staff. That is, they must include your access code. Many external networks impose similar rules. You are encouraged to ensure that your name (in addition to access code) is also attached identity or intentionally originate a message masquerading as someone else.

By convention, most systems offering “anonymous FTP” services request that you enter your network address as a password. Users must comply with this convention

Refrain from unauthorized electronic down loading of material.

The material copied through the computer network from web-sites or other sources must be duly acknowledged by appropriately citing the references. Unauthorized down loading of material is a violation of intellectual property right and therefore will be treated as a breach of academic discipline.

Sharing of material through electronic media, for the purposes of assignments, project work, etc., if essential, must be done only with the consent of the course instructor. Individual students or student groups must protect the information created on the network so as to eliminate the chances of unauthorized copying of their material by others.

Any violation of this Code may be prosecuted in conformity with the relevant

School policy (Code of Student Conduct, policies as per MBA Manual, etc.) and the principle of fundamental justice
