PDPU on a placement high

Average annual income offered to SPM school students touches Rs 7 lakh as compared to Rs 5.6 lakh last year

Ahmedabad Mirror Bureau
Ahmedabad, February 14, 2016
Students of School of Petroleum Management (SPM) at Paradip Dendrayal Petroleum University (PDPU) who are gearing up to step into the professional world couldn't be a happier lot. While the college has recorded a whopping Rs 13.5 lakh per annum as its highest salary for the batch of 2014-16, the same as last year, the average salary offered to students has increased to Rs 7 lakh per annum this year from Rs 5.6 lakh per annum for the batch of 2013-15.

Officials at the varsity stated the final placement season on campus started on November 12, 2015 and in 22 days of the placement process, 26 companies conducted interviews on campus. Around 59 students from five specialised courses — Energy and Infrastructure, Marketing, Finance, Operation and Human Resource — that registered for placements, 59 students have secured jobs. The remaining 101 students are expected to take up offers from 15 other companies scheduled to visit the campus for interview by the end of this month, said officials. Some of the companies that visited PDPU during placement season include GAIL Limited, Reliance Industries, Mahanagar Gas, Total Oil India Pvt Ltd, Accenture, Infosys, Wipro and Protiviti.

Kunal Sugandhi, the student who bagged the job with the highest salary said, "I have always wanted to work in the energy sector and I am thrilled to have bagged an offer from a company in the same sector. The interview session was rather difficult with a panel of seven officials on the panel. But I made it."

Meanwhile, director of SPM, Dr C. Gopikrishnan said, "The average salary has grown this year. I would like to take it higher and we are working in the direction. This can be achieved as students here are not only bright but are taught various skills and get exposure to varied teaching methods and foreign expertise," he stated.
